

ANNUAL REPORT

ITE AUSTRALIAN SECTION

1 JANUARY - 31 DECEMBER 1987

The Section enjoyed a successful year improving the profile of the ITE amongst the transportation profession and a continuing flow of membership applications. Also many members attended a range of technical meetings held during the year.

Emphasis was given this year to increasing the involvement of members in other States. This was achieved by providing articles in the Newsletter about matters of local interest and organising technical and social meetings in other States.

The successes for the Section in 1987 are summarized as follows:

- a) Conduct of technical meetings of a high quality and well attended. Details of meetings held during the year are provided in Attachment A.
- b) Improvement in the quality and content of the local Newsletter. This has been recognized by receipt of the ITE 1987 District/Section Newsletter Award;
- c) The initiation of a technical project covering Australian practices in "Residential Street Management".
- d) Comments and representations sought of the ITE by agencies on various transport proposals and Committees; and
- e) the continuation of a high number of membership applications this year of which 14 have been recommended for election.

The success for the year can be attributed mainly to a dedicated Executive, listed in Attachment B, and the participation of members and associates.

Future years should see a continuation of these efforts to improve the service and involvement of members in ITE activities.
